Hi Pat-

Just checking in to see if anything has changed with the [REDACTED] case scheduled for tomorrow, March 22nd. If not, I'll assume that I'm on call as we previously discussed. You can call the lab directly at 413-545-2607 or call me on my cell at [REDACTED]. Also, you mentioned faxing me a summons but I haven't received one yet. It is not a big deal (I don't need one), but I just wanted to make sure that everything is scheduled as planned. Thanks.

Sonja -

Thank you for the quick response. I think the best course of action for everyone is to have you on call. I'm hopeful that the case will plea out, however we need to have our ducks in row for that to happen. Your testimony is a very important part of that. I'll fax a summons to you and call you the morning of the trial. After I have a better sense of the posture of the case, I'll be sure to keep you informed.

Also, I didn't have a copy of your CV, but would appreciate getting one. Thanks for all your help,

Pat

Hi Pat-

I should not have a problem going to Fall River District Court on 3-22-11 as I am already on call for a Superior Court case in Fall River that day as well, though ADA Strojny is not 100% sure if the case will go forward or not. I also have a district court case in Springfield that day, but I have informed the ADA of the possible conflict and highly doubt that his case will go forward (plus, Superior Court has priority over district, so Fall River "wins"). It takes a couple hours for me to get to Fall River from the lab, and I'm assuming that you will not need me until late morning/afternoon due to jury selection, etc., so if you wanted to have me on call that would be fine, but the earlier I know the better. If it is easier, we could also set up a time that you want me there, even if it is early in the day (I have family in Portsmouth, RI so I can always spend the night before there if needed). I'm not sure if you are planning on sending a summons or not, but if so, the best (and easiest) way is just to fax it to the lab at 413-545-2608 instead of sending it through the mail (a summons is not 100% necessary, but it is nice to have documentation). Finally, I've attached a copy of my CV to this email in case you need it. Please keep me informed of any changes in the case. Thanks.

Hello -

You performed the analysis on this substance and the Defendant's trial is set for 3-22-11. Although there was a small amount of heroin, we were not able to resolve the case short of trial. Are you available to come to the Fall River District Court on that date? I can put you on call.

Thanks,
Pat Driscoll
